

PREACHING FOR BODYBUILDING

First Baptist Church Sweetwater
3800 Wekiva Springs Rd • Longwood, FL
November 8, 2011 • 9:00 AM - 2:00 PM

How many times have you heard a sermon and walked away wanting more? How many times have you preached a message and wished you could have gone deeper into the text without your audience scratching their heads? In Preaching for Bodybuilding, Joel Breidenbaugh, senior pastor and professor of homiletics, shows how the most faithful preaching begins by developing the preacher, who then proclaims God's message to listeners and helps them build their spiritual bodies into the image of Christ.

So, are you ready for a workout?

Recent studies reveal many evangelicals are biblically illiterate and theologically ignorant, which has inevitably been passed down by those occupying the pulpit. Preaching for Bodybuilding shows preachers how to integrate the two disciplines of theology and exposition and return to the Scriptures and its models, strengthening their preaching and helping the spiritual bodies of their audience grow.

Joel Breidenbaugh is senior pastor of First Baptist Sweetwater in Longwood, FL and homiletics professor for Liberty Baptist Theological Seminary. He received his PhD in preaching from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Joel has four main passions in ministry: expositional preaching in the context of the local church, watching God's Word transform people's lives over time; teaching (through theological education online or on-campus) those called into ministry to equip them; going on missions to assist pastors and local churches in the Great Commission; and writing. Joel's published writings include Preaching for Bodybuilding: Integrating Doctrine and Expository Preaching in a Postmodern World (2010), as well as several articles in The Journal of Florida Baptist Heritage and in The Popular Encyclopedia of Apologetics (2008). But most of all, Joel enjoys spending time with his wife and four children!
